The Solld South .- Why?

the South confemplates anything of the kind? Have not the Southern When Wade Hampton, Senator of the United States from the State of South Carolina, arose in the Cincinwar, including the amendments fo the constitution, the entranchisement nuti Convention and pledged the of the negro, and the supremacy of "solld South," with its 138 electoral the Federal Union? Well, let us see votes, to the Democratic nomlnees the northern delegates arose in their turn and cheered him to the egho .-Vermout, Massaeliusetts, New York aml the West, in the persons of flieir Democrafie representatives, in con-vention assembled, hailed the proud boust with cuthusiasm and rained their congratulations upon the daring grator who had given it voice. If is in justice due to the gentlemen who represented the northern states at Cincinnati, to remark 4hnt their cheers were not so much for the solid South as for the 138 electoral votes. The former was an impalpable idea, representing a mere sentiment of little or no real importance, the latter a posilive and agreeable reality, involving a mere contribution of 47 electoral voios upon their part, to ensure fhe democracy the control of the national government. To their mind "the South" was a political term, distingulshing one section of the Union from the others, and made the more delightful by its connection with the 138 electoral votes. "We need only Imliana and New York," said the Senator from South Curolina, "and victory is ours," and the cheers were redoubled as the Democratic dele gates from the States alluded to arose in their sents and pledged themselves and their communities to swell the certain 138 to the essential 185.

It should be remembered that Mr. Hampton's promise was given in advauce of the naming of the caudidates; that if implied no conditions, nor involved any complications or contingencies whatever. Whoever should be the candidate, whatever the platform, or whenever the election, the South' individually and collectively could be depended upon as n political entity, to cast its vote solidly and squarely for the Democratic party. It is therefore from the highest and most unquestioned authority, that the "solid South" as a compound and plural noun of individual and resulfs of the war and has no intention of nudoing the work of the past class, is adopted into the political lanfwenty years? guage of the day and generation. This much established from such repeating public atterances of the excellent authority-which absolves most prominent of the southern demus from any anticipated charge of ocratic leaders, of the same tenor and waving "the bloody shirt" or of raising sectional issues and consequent mything, they mean that the South sectional feelings-wo are led to in cuntemplates, through the election of quire, as a necessary and not unrea-Hancock, to control the government. sonable question-What Is the Solid Wade Hampton, in his Staunton South, and what is the harm of it?-It is not emough to say that "the South' is a political collection, made election of Huncock would be gavup of ten States once in rebellion ernment by the South, while the elecagainst the national government, and four others that were only prevented from a similar act by the restraining The fact that he was argning before and timely hand of the government, and timely hand of the government, a southern audience is rather n plea for this might involve complex differ- of sincerity than an example of camences of opinion, upon which democrats and republicans are not expected to agree. THE CODFISH-A FABLE.

A codlish one day was sailing came ocross a clam. That was in the days when coddsh put on a heap of airs over the clam tribe, and this particular tish stuck up his nose at thut particular elant aml begau:

"Here you ore, grubbing away of this same old soud-bank for v living. while I have journeyed over o thou saml miles in the last four weeks. "I um quite content," replied the clant, "I am rother near sighted, slaw on foot, aml nature did not intend me to travel far. Neither of us two can make more than a living, and I am satistical, If you are." "Yes, but you have such in oulequal or greater certainty carry the largest vessels? There is in operation rails of every first class road in the landish shape," succeed the cod .-"Why, there's neither head, nor tail nor legs, nor arms to you. Your eye are scarcely to be seen, and one little grin for a cent would split your whole face open."

"My eyes ore plenty large enough to see that no two tish in the ocean ngree," tarily replied the clum, "aml seeing this, I have no cause to smile. What you say about my form is true but I make good chowder, forall that and I have no bones to trouble the throats of humanity."

"Well, I'm thunkful that I wasn't born to begin and end my days in a saud-bank. I go everywhere. I take io all the free lunches. Small fish fear me, and big ones can't catch me. Sec low I glide around." At that moment a fish-hook nicely baited dropped down between them. "Now, if you only hafa little mor mouth you could get enough ut one gulp to last you all day," remarked the cod, us he eyed the bait. "As it s, you may stand by and see me take miliat banquet. Just see what mouth will do for one in this world."

He opened his month, made a dive for the bait, and was about to wink at the clant with his left eye when he was suddenly pulled out of the water and lamfed in a loat. "I think," mused the clam, as he closed his shell, "that it is a great deal nicer to be a clant on a sund-bank than a cod in a tish-boat, but I'll be open to argument next flood time."

ANNUAL FAIR show of quite, an important feature of household comfort in which the ladies of some of the out-of-town places

Agricultural & Industrial Soc. Thursday, Friday & Saturday,

The festivities incident to the first ous edition of the GAZETTE, the resuit of the Fireman's Mustor, in prize, and of the Giass Ball Shoot, heraided another day of unalioyed pleasure for those who intended to visit the Fair Grounds.

The committees wore actively engaged at an early hour in arranging the articles which had not been received the previous day, and it required much study to so place the nu merous contributions that each would have a good position. Mr. S. S. Spear, Sup't of the hall, had made some changes in the arrangement of department exhibits, and had relegated the show of vegetables to the hall at the Grand Stand, thus affording opportunity for better arrangement of the floral display and the fruit exhibit. The tables for these departneuts extended the eutire length of the hali, and the effect produced was very pleasing, while the chaage mado the passages more convenient both for visitors and committees, in their examination of the articles.

The ladies of this town and other towns in the vicinity had shown their nterest in the success of the Fair by filing the table devoted to articles of fauey and useful character with a notable exhibit, while suspended from the cross-beams of the haii, or hanging upon the walls, were various speemens of feminiae industry in the form of rugs, mats, quiits, affghana, lambrequins, etc., in great profusion. stretching almost the entire length of the hall, and giving it a decidedly oraaicatal appearance. At the cast and north sides of the hali, the offerings of "our nativo artists" were grouped with good effect, the golden butter and hoaey, ruby jellies, preserves, &c., intermingling their hues with the imitative colorings of the artists' brush, and adding n the attractiveness of the display at that point. At the weat side of the Stop Just a Moment, Funeral Undertaker, that point. At the west side of the hall were placed the sowing machines, organs, &c., the buzz of the machines eompany, ns was also the case with the novel exhibition of the manufacture of artilleial flowers from liquid lish sklu, by Madauc Rosa Harding, of Washington, who is the pntented of the invention. Ladies surrounded her stand in crowds throughout the two days of the exhibition, and kept her coustautly busy in lilling orders, from which she must have realized a uice amount of eash. The flowers are very delicate and lovely, and form very attractive ornameuts for house-

> USEFUL AND FANCY ARTICLES. She seeketh wool and flax, and worketh dili-ently with her hands."

Every visitor of the gentler sex as impressed with the unusually exensive display of rugs and mats, and would seem as though all the castoff clothing between here and Hnuon had been resurrected from its degradation and worked into bright and beautiful forms by the braiders. We noticed one very nice knit rug made by Mrs. Chas. Meserve, of No. Abingtoa, n lady 70 years of age, who displayed an excellent taste in arrangement of colors. Two drawn rugs were elegant specimens of this useful ludustry, one by Mrs. Joseph White, representing two lions, the hand, rugs on the left hand, constrain auatemy of the "monarch of the forest" being worked with much accura cy. The other rug was made by Miss Flera Barker, a handsome deer forming the centre. Rugs on the right us to forego further description and proceed to the show of mats, where aa embroidered or crocheted mat by Miss Addie Tirrell, and several aice button mats, were especially noticeable. Mrs. Erastus Nash contributed an elegant immorequin, and in the shew of affghans Mrs. S. A. Brigham of Marlhore, Mrs. Wendall Clapp, Mrs. J. W. Bartlett, Mrs. Chas. T. ilumphrey and Mrs. F. Torrey, were prominent exhibitors.

Of laces, embroideries, &c., the display was pronounced by some of the visitors to be superior to those of any former fairs. Mrs. P. II. Liatoa was the exhibitor of a haadsoute lace aproa, for which she received a first prize, and Miss Fannie W. Sprague also captured a similar prize for Honiton lace. Mrs. A. J. Simpson and Mrs. S. Blanchard also received prize honors for elegant lace work. All the various forms of knittlag, however, make mention of the large

appeared to have special interest.—
Noreity, patch, witch and log-cabin styles of quilts were worthy appendages to the aderuments of the hall.
The Bay State Hammock Co. had a eminder of summer pleasure and comfort in an exhibit of eigeant hammocks of their manufacture, which "Let the earth bring forth grass, the herb yield-ing seed, and the fruit tree yielding fruit after its kind." attracted general attention. On the table of useful and fancy articles we noticed a novel and tasty mat, imitating the calla iily in ita day of the annual fair of the W. A. make up, the green leaves and white & I. Society were noted in the previous edition of the GAZETTE, the result of the Fireman's Mustor, in suit of the Fireman's Mustor, in which the Gen'l Bales Engine Co. of East Weymouth, carried off the first shing hats, fine feathers and lovely flowers and of the Gissa Rall Shoot. boing then given. From this point of age was not too old to have lost we proceed to a narration of the lucidents of the second day, (Friday,) and atout stockings for mascuiine feet. which dawned with a brightness that An elegant sofa pillow contributed by Mrs. Henry Dyer looked extremely comfortable, and other specimens of emb'd plilows, piano stool covers, crazy piliows, pin cushions, etc., covered a good share of the table apace. In toliette setts Mrs. Erastus Nash urnished one of great elegance, and Mrs. S. W. Nash one of satin, which was a charming addition to the show. Decorated china by Miss Agnes Terrv and Geo. Hollis, scroll sawing by II. H. Joy, feather work by Misa Si-

Some were not very marked in extent, but the show was very beautiful, especialty that nice houev atrained and in the comb, whiel Mrs. Charies Hawes exhibited. Butter and cheeso were represented by eight coutributors, Mrs. L. A. Cook butter and Mrs. L. S. Brown for 5 lbs. Mrs. II. A. Turner, of South Scituate, took the first prize for cheese. Cake was exhibited by two contributors, and silver and gold, and angel, &c., were favorably noticed by the committee. The bread making huslnud the melody of "the kists o" whisness seeme to have been active in in this line hailing from that place and they certainly made it manifes that though Hanson may not be mucl of a centre fer general industries, the ladies of that town are not to be out denc in the art of bread making. THE ART DEPARTMENT. We stand prepared to see the life as livel mock'd is ever still sleep mock'd death."

In this department the specimen exhibited were, perhaps, not so uuuerous as ia former years, but they betokened much artistic taste in the exhibitors. One water color spray of convolvulus was contributed by Miss Grace L. Geer, of Boston, und was awarded a lirst prize. This aud two oil mintings of her production were much admired. Two residents of North Abington, Willie and Thomas Sweeny, showed a good degree of skill in crayon drawing; Solon Murse and George A. Morse, of So. Weymouth, contributed excellent pencil drawings; Miss Agnes Terry, who is well known as an artist of rare taleat, received awards which are an index to the value and merit of her exhibition of palatings and erayons. Mrs. A. J. Garey, of East Weymouth, as usual, furnished n fine contribution of her artistic skill; Mrs. E. S. Hill. of New York, was also a prominent xhibitor of oil paintings and watercolors. C. T. Collier, of Rockland, displayed a choice collection of photos, and Benj. White, of Weymouth, exhibited an elegant model of a ves-

THE FLORAL DISPLAY.

"By flowers sweet and gsy, snhanced is th arming sight."

As we have previously remarked inc tables devoted to the display of lowers extended the length of the hall, which did away with the former 'huldied up'' appearance of the exhlbit. As usual, the prominent exhlbitors were Messrs. Albert Tirreli and George Hollis, who presented many things rich and rare. Mr. Tir-

That the ball exhibition, in its various departments, was an attractive lisplay, is a well attested fact when we consider that the great variety of entertainment on the grounds outside of the hull did not appear to diminish the crowd which continued to throng the area throughout Friday and Saturday. The committees who made so nice an arrangement of the exhibit and labored so zealously to make tho exhibition in the hali a success, are entitled to the hearty thanks of tho Society. The contributors to the exhibit are also to be kindly remembered by all interested in the success of the Society, la which remembranco the President, Albert Tirrell, Esq., is

Concluding our sketch of the prom ment features of the exhibition in the hall, we turn to the pens and coops of stuck and fowl, of which the notebook makes the following record.

THE CATTLE PENS. "tly beavy beasts the ground is trod."

If in this department the exhibit of four-fooled kine dld not represent the "Cattle on a thousand hills," It eertainly did show us what the few hills of Weymonth and vicinity bring forth. The best show of Jersey slock was collected that has ever been seen here. Mr. James Moore entered one cow of this breed, which, in the months of Dec., Jan., Feb. und March, averaged 15 quarts per day, and the next four months, Ill qts., making from

Mr. John Shaw entered one Jersey hall descended from the stock, the mother of which (14 yrs. old) gave milk in the mouth of June which produced 65 lbs of liniter.

Mr. Albert Tirrell entered a cow which gives 24 qis. per day, requiring to be milked three limes. Of the other entries we note a fine looking Dutch cow, entered by Edward Nolan; I heifers, namely,-"Mignonette," "Pride of the Illus Hills," "Priss the 4th," by Jas. L. Simonds, which were heautiful as could be; Swiss cows by Jas. Leach, attracted much natice by their quaint looks; and two fat oxen by Seth Sprague, weighed 3440 lbs.

Mr. Albert Tirrell's exhibit occupied pens by themselves, and there was need of this extra accommodation. Mr. Tirrell's Marshfield farm was well represented, and the President made a grent effort to have his show displayed rs advantageously as possilde. Considering the time and nbor expeaded in bringing logather ull of these entries, we feel justified Jersey hull, (3 yrs. old.) Sninggler

There were a few promising colts, and valuble a male colt belonging to F. Wilbur Lond.

The swine exhibit never was better, and contained grunters which for excellent proportions, smooth coat, and general make up, could seldom be equalled.

Mr. Quincy Reed had a litter of Essex and Yorkshire that were remarkable for their sifky hair; Mr. 11. D. Hlanchard, a Berkshire breeder of tine form; Mr. A. H. Raymoud, a litter I-2 Poland China, very even in size; Jas. L. Simonds, West India imported breeder; John Shaw, a perfeet Yorkshire sow, without spot or blentish; Mr. Tirrell also made a noteworthy display of swine.

THE MINSTRELS.

This feature of the entertainmen was carried out on Friday, the female corps giving several songs, their costunie, however, heling so objectiousble to many, owing to its scanty proportion of length, that a meeting of he Directors was called by the President Saturday morning, and a vote was passed to dispense with the performance that day. The committee on rural sports were exonerated of any blame in their arrangements, lml it was deemed inlyisable to defer to the wish of a large number of friends of the Society. This hiatus was, however, satisfac torily filled by the female pedestrian walking malch between Misses Freeunn, Blackwell aud Irwin, which was won by Miss Blackwell in 24 min. 58 see , it being a two mile match.

last day of the fair, of walking over the grounds with some friends from abroad who have travelled much, and who are great lovers of the beautiful in nature as weil as in art, one of whom occupies a high position as teacher of drawing and landscape sketching, in one of the tirst institutions in the city; and we must confess that we were really surprised to have our attention called to the wonder ful beauty of the scenery that presented biulls, picturesque hills, beautiful and variegated trees, was indeed a delightful picture to behold, and we became fully persuaded in our own mind that not a tithe of our stockholders have any ade-

General Order No. 40.

During the summer of 1864, while the southern wing of the Democratic party was engaged in an attempt to ileslroy the Union through the medium of powder and ball, the northern wing of that body assembled at Chicago in national convention and solemply declared the war to be a fallure and demanded an immediate cessation of hostilltles. At this time Gen. Huneock was in the field, at the head of an army corps, displaying an enthuslasm and bravery seldom equaled in the effort to suppress rebellion and contributing in no inconsiderable degree to lis linal overthrow. But in his nomination for the Presidency by the democratic party in 1880, his sole claim to statesmanship lies in the fact that he disregarded the orders of his superiors and construed the laws of Congress according to the policy of Andrew Johnson. Huving been sent to New Orleans lo administer the taws, he immediately proceeded to set the laws at nought and inaugurate policy of his own, wholly in rouffict therewilli. The eyilence of his etatesmauship, according to democrutic nuthority, is found in his celebruted General Order Nn. 40, dated from Heillquarters 5th Military Dist. Nov. 29, 1867. Now as we happen to know something about this interesting document there is no harm in telling

During the summer and full of '67 disorder and lawlessness reigned supreme in the states of Louisiana and Texas. The civil courts were powerless to act; men arrested for highest crimes were released by bands of nrmed maskers, negroes were slaughtered liku sheep, school-houses hurued and school-teachers driven from the country, and the law was everywhere n dead letter. In his official report, dated Sept. 30, Gen. Mnwer, commanding lu Louisiana, remarked that "Murder and other crimes are alarmingly on the increase throughout the ciate. No regard whatever for the orders and decisions of the courts is leal; the execution of processes is resisted with arms, and mob-law reigns supreme lu nearly all of the counties where military forces are not sintioned." In his official report dated Oct. 1867, Gen. Reynolds, commanding in Texas, uses even stronger langange. "Murders are occurring in this state at the rate of more than three every day, and this average has continued throughout the entire year. In the accompanying table will be have come to my knowledge, and there is reason to believe that but a brance by many of the older citizens. are ever reported. The courts are wholly powerless to act, and officers of the court are everywhere resisted by armed meu." On the 16th of November the legislature of the state of Texas passed a resolution urging upon Congress the organization of a military force in the several countles of that State, "no act in conjunction with and under the direction of the military commanuler therein, for the protection of the lives and property of the citizens now every day being preyed upon by assassius and robbers to an extent uuparallelled in the history of civilized communities in times of peace, and which if not speedily arrested, must der; and that if protection be not speedily provided in some form by the imitional government to the loyal and | for a larger and immortal life hereafter. law-abiding citizeus of Texas, they will be compelled, in the sacred right | bath afternoon is "Ifabita." of self defence, to organize for their own protection." "It will be his purpose," he goes It is needless to add, that he did. "This condition of things" was grandly and maguilleently preserved from the moment of his arrival up to the day when, disgusted with the 'peace and quiet" of Louisiana and Texas, he demanned his recail and returned to Wushington. Peace, with the government in the ands of the men who endeavored to lestroy it; quiet, with ignorance and illiteracy in power and free speech uppressed. Peace, when the South has no further need to intimidate and aseassinate and hide behind masks and cloaks; quiet, when "the princlplee for which Leo and Jackson fought for four long years" have been secured to the South, aml wher we have stricken out the last vestige of your war legislation from the stat ute-books;17 when all this shall have been accomplished, then will it doubtless be the purpose of Gen. Hancock at the head of a peaceable and quiet democracy, to preserve and continue this truly delightful condition of

The marching of the companies was very good, especially that of the Brockton and North Ablugton boys. Along lively scene. From Chas. Henry Belcher's, on Plymouth street, to the Post Office, there were only three houses not lilmainated, and from the new church, on the malu highway, to Henry Lin coin's, it was one blaze of tailow and tissue. Many dwellings looked beautifully, among which were Newton Thay er's, which was decorated lavishly hiside as well as out; Everett Holbrook, whose grounds and landscape gardening were set off by lanterns suspended from tree and shruh; Chas. If. Belcher, Eugene Snell, Edmund White, Newton Llucoln, and many others worthy of note. The town hall was thrown open, the Politically speaking, it is safe to assert that Holbrook is out and out Republiean, aithough not long ago she sent to the State House a Democratic representative; but evidently this was accomplished by a concerted movement of the Republicans and Democrats to circumvent a certain other little scheme.

Grant's t'tigrimage terday, was attended with an enthusias tic demonstration at every halting-place of the party. The special stop in this vicinity was at Hingham, and in honor of the event the tirand Army l'osts of Hingham and Weymouth paraded vith fuil ranks, and in company with a rowd of spectators gave him a welcome of the heartlest character.

The line of "Boys in blue" was head ed by the ffingham Band and the Sing son Drum Corps, and as the train rounded the curve below the depot, the drums rolled a welcome beat, cannon roared, and the church bells Intermingled their motical tones with the hurras of the asunbled thousands. After the train had one to a standstill, Gov. Long lutroduced the "conquering hero," and after the General had made a brief address, expressing his pleasure in greeting the veteran soldiers, an opportunity was presented for introductions and handshaking, after which he cutered a carriage and was driven to the Gov. Audrew monument in the Cemetery, and to the old church near by, when he returned to the train, which sped on to Quincy, where another halt was made for a brief period, the grounds around the station eing crowded with people, whose cheering was accompanied by the music of a

Don't Be Silly.

Don't let a foolish prejudice against opular medicines stand between you und the heaith of your wife, child, or haby. It is always right to intvertise a biessing. Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" is a blessing. It has saved thousands, and it will help you. If you are sick and miserable, we advise you to spend One Dollar for this King of Medicines, and then write to the Doctor at Rondout, N. Y., a to how you feel. For troubles of the kidneys, bowels, liver and blood.

The Cost of It.

If the total cost of sickness simply in its business aspects, were reckoned up, it would be found to be great enough in five years to pay the nationai debt. The merchant has a headache, from a tit of judigestion, and misses a good bargalu. The lawyer does the same with a case. To say nothing of doctors' fees, etc., it don't pay to be even a little sick. Dr. Da vid Kenndy's "Favorite Remedy" is a friend of the business man, for i clears his brain. One Dollar a bottle, Rondout, N. Y.

Ohio and Indiana.

Contrary to the expectations of imparted a new phase to the cam-paign. By "one fell swoop" the Honse of Representatives returns to republicun control, the Senate contlugenity so; an important democratic state is transferred to the republicans; the insjority in a close republican state is largely increased, and the presinge of an overwhelming victory cannot be overestimated in its bearing upon the three weeks yet remaining hefore the people of all the States decide the contest beyond appeal. Up to the last moment the democratic managers counted upon increased majorities in Indiana and cutertained glawing hopes of securing Ohlo. On the morning preceding the election the Washington Post remarked, in leaded editorial, "If Indlana goes republican we give up the election. If it goes democratic we shall expect our republican friends to do the same." The New York Sun, likewise, after remarking that "the perind of political propieccies is nearly linished and we are coming down lo solid, unquestionable facts," proceeded to demonstrate the superior value of facts over prophecies by statling in unqualified terms that "if both Ohio and Indiana go for the republicans. Gutileld will be elected in November. If both go for the democrats, Hancock will certainly be elected."

Wiren we add to these semi-oileln reil hesitated in accepting this unant opinions the fact that betting men mous choice, and requested time for con everywhere were laying heavy odds on the chances of democratic success in the October States, there remains merely the reasonable inference that the result was no less unexpecied than important in its effect upon the election yet to come.

Mr. Baruum claimed to count as surely upon Indiana as upon the solid South, and in leaving Indianapolis on Tuesday morning, with a good portion of the bar'l yet unexpended, in the helief that no more funds were needed, comforted himself on the way toward home with the assurance that his Indiam campaign would demonstate the power of the invincible democracy to sweep everything before it. It is possible that Mr. Harnum may be aide to account for the disaster by impugning the popularity of Mr. Lauders and questioning the advisubility of the nomination of Mr. English, but this is not exactly what he unnounces to the great Democratic party, us the chairman of its national committee. "Frandulent voting and tire unstinted use of money as a corruption fumi," may not sound altogether satisfactory when applied to repoblican melitods, but it is presumed that familiarity with the process may enable the chairman of the democratic committee to cover the retreat with the most available forces. Still, this pien of corruption is larrily sufficient to account for the change from a democratic majority of lican majority of 8000 in 1880, und of had served several years as Superinten-14.113 in Indiana, in 1878, to a repubtransforming a present Congressional can und 4 democratic. The cost to me was live hundred and twenty dollars, and I am not aware that I ever received the thanks of my person for doing the work, but I have had the pleasure of traveling over one good piece of road Inveling over one good piece of road in Briditree.

The condition of the roads in East Braintree is such as demands public attention, especially Quincy Avenue and portions of Shaw street, as well as Adams street and Liberty street. The town having failed to raise maney to repair the roads, or having voted as raise four thousand dollars, two flows and dollars of this has been used to law a shape crasher and en-

ORIGINAL SKETCH. WRITTEN FOR THE GAZETTE.

FERD DURELL, MINER.

It was n happy day for Rebeece when she started from the old farm to seek her lover-a gladness not numixed with anxiety for the unseen hiogs ahead. The cars rattled her on day and night. Among the pasengers were a gentleman and little irl who sat near by. Some little net feminine thought toward the child rompted a conversation, and this led o an acquaintance for the remainder of the journey. The little girl was motherless, and there were many kind offices which could be performed that contirmed a friendship between our eroine and the father. Shawmut St.. East Weymouth.

the other ladies sceypied one side o' the stand, and the speakers, etc., were sittln' on the other, with a space be-tween, and fallari, old Lynchins kept a waggin' from one side to the other, a whisperin' and grinnin' like all posvion we saw Ford Durell a elbowin' his way thro' the crowd nearer to the balcony; I saw him (I seem ter see him -----) a watchin sagery the movements of the speceriator as he whispered in Rabeeky's car, smile ter the Jedge's wife, and gazel haughtily over the assembly. I saw Ferd uneasily twitch, move his band over his purson as ef ter see ef he waz ali there; tighten his cap eloser ou his hed and look the harder. The ridderer out more attentiv than ever: he wuz trvin' ter make au impresshan on the crowd, and he dld. Ferd couldn't stand his noubtful posish nuch longer; he pushed his way tovard the balrony and mounted the teps; he reached the ralin', and made as of ter step in among the notybies. Ferd looked him up and down, ealnry now, and his reply seemed dietated by Reason herself-'Private,' he drawled sarcasticully, 'nlo yer call yer miserable sparkin' ter my Becky thar a private purformance?' The crowd ciled and hooted a hidcous approval to this rejoinder. Lynchins couldn't restrain himself; he rushed to Ferd, and vainly attempted to hurl him from the rail. The crowd was bushed, the offishuls all 'rose in plarm, the braves in the trees rus'hed stilly—'Hands off, er miserable cor,' we heard Ferd cry; hen saw a tlash, and the widderer wayed backward, staggered toward the window and fell. sier guarding that line. An entertainment was held upo the grounds on July 5th, yielding the Society a small net income, and afgrowth than during the sixteen years fording pleasure to the many who were present. On the evening of Sept. 15th the annual reunium, which through the liberality of the President has come to be one of the most enjoyable occasions of the year, was held. It is manacessary for me to give it more than a passing natice, us its joys are yet so fresh in all your minds. However scattered our met bership becomes, they come docking to the old hearthstone on that weatsion, to renew the friendships of former years. May this practice, so well inaugurated, never be given up while the Society shall last.

After much anxious consideration the Rural Sports committee recond mended the holding of a threman's nuster on the 30th of Sept., which suggestion was carried out by vote o the Directors, and though large expense was incurred the result proved hat the Society suffered no bass by his arrungement, and it was an adutdage to the Society in tensing its round. Few realize the care sood hdua which devulves upon the Itural Sports committee, who are expected a pravide something attractive and enumerative, something new and resh; and we feel that those who have for so many years filled that position are entitled to the kind apprelation of the Society.

The annual fair of the Society. held Oct. 1st and 2d, was one of the best ever held by the Society. The Directors adopted the suggestion of the Sup't of the Hall and placed the exhibition of vegetables in the hall under the Grand Stand. This relieved the main hall of what has given it a crowded appearance in years past, and enabled the Sup't to show ds good taste in the general arrangement of the exhibition. I feel thu but one opinion could be found, and that of approval. The display of ped idants and flowers, which has in year past been massed in one corner of the ball for want of space, was made to give beauty to the ball, while the langing of rich worsted work in yarrious parts of the ladi concealed in dainness and served as decoration

An artificial composition, which inswers the purposes of genuine cantchour or gutta percha, can be used either alone or in connection with resinous substances, besides offording an inexpensive means for a perfect isolution of wires for electrical purposes. The composition is elastie, tough, not so sensitive to external influences as caoutehoue or gutta percha, and is not injured by high pressure or temperature. It is prepared by taking one-third quantity of coal tar oil, put loto a kettle with an equal quantity of hemp oil, and heated to 252 or at the most 288 Ful. until the mass becomes seductile that it can be drawn into threads, and the remaining third, of linseed oil, thickened by hoiling, then added. With this composition from five to

Closing up the ranks.

As the lour approaches for the winding up of the political campaign of 1880, the entitivisiasm increases in involved. It has been a marked fea-'ture of the campaign that business men and manufacturers, in common will their employees, have looked upon the canvas as involving princh ples and interests of the highest imtering as heartily into the contest as the most professed politician. The tariff question, which proved so suecessful nn issue ln the Indiana and tililo canvas, has been and is being worked to mivnntage by the republicaus, and their opponents, alive to the importance of the subject, are striving to counteract their efforts in tlint direction and lend nwny the pullie attention in any direction other than that which has proved so calani-ltrus an issue in the October Stales. In New York, which is likely to prove the pivotal State, the Introduction into the enuvas of what is come is proving a strong card for the republicans. The presence of Gen'l Grant, supplemented by the figure of Conkling in his shirt sleeves, is animating the masses to a degree never before wilnessed even in a section where pulltles has grown to be a science. There is a plainness and directness of minuter and methods surrounding the "foremost man of the age" that is of precisely the nature to sway the multitude, and the eloquence of Mr. Conkling was never worked to so great un udvantage as nt present. In an interview with Mr. Davenport on Monday, at New York, he assured me that unless the unexpected should Imppen, the republicans of the State would be able to overcome a demoeratic majority from the metropolis of 75,000 to 80,000. While the new registration is largely la excess of any former year, he considered that the proportion of increase was quite as much due to republican influences as themografic, and that men who have meyer voted before are registering in the interests of the republicans. Mr Dorsey, the Secretary of the Repub lieun Committee, was sungnine as to New Jersey and Connecticut, and authorized the announcement of his opinion that the electoral vote of Florida was almost certain to be thrown for Garlield.

Upon the whole, it looks now as though the "solid south" will flul itself confronted on the 2d of Novemher by a solid North, and that the electural vote will stand in about the relation of 231 to 138. It is senreely days that precede the election will present new fentures that can have mry influence upon the result. Both parties are on the home stretch, each straining every nerve for the flnish, and each ontwurdly confident; but unless all signs fuil-as they are said to do in dry weather-the republicans have a present lead that their oppoments are not likely to overcome.

In Massuchusetts the result is generally a foregone conclusion. Without having approached the excitement that has distinguished past campaigus when llutler presented so potent and phenomenal a factor in home politics, the campaign has been waged with unceasing vigor and the voic will doublless reneli close upon the figures of 1878-it. The firm of Thompson and Thompson, however, we venture the opinion, will lack some twenty to thirty thousand of reaching the Butler vote of 1879. In the Congressionnl districts there is doubt only concerning the Third and Fourth. In the former the republican candidate, Mr. Runney, is unquestionably uble and popular, and will poll the full vote of the party. If etected he will ensily tuke the lend of the Massachusetts delegation in Congress. In the Fourth district the opposition to Leopold Morse withlu his purty has developed within a brief period to a degree that may seriously imperil his probable success. The probabilities, however, are that the political complexion of the present congressional first time since 1874.

In closing up the ranks for the final charge ulong the whole line, the blunders and mistakes that have distinguished the campaign become the more apparent, in the knowledge that they are Irremediable and beyond be held in Clapp's Hall and a collation present control. The democratic will be served in Lincoln Itali. eampaign has been one of experiment. In declining to uominate Mr. w. c. T. v. Tiblen the democracy threw away the single point upon which it could have joined issue with its opponent, and in entering the State of Indiana to se- lng of this week. The ladies are preparlert any man but Mr. Heudricks it ing for their annual saie. was guilty of an egregions blumler that lost them the cumpnign in a single night. Indiana was lost to the themocracy through the infamous and at a former time supplied the Universawhoily unnecessary decision of a par- list pulpit at this place, preached in the tizan Supreme Court, made in the in- 1st church, Weymouth Landing, and 2d terest of Mr. Hendricks. vas experimentai. Seiected nom!naily for his war record, but actually for an alleged outburst of statesmanship, and accepted by the solid South as a distanteful means by which to acquire an end, his superb figure has never been broad enough to conceal the party behind it, or sufficiently spaque to disguise its purposes. It is said that the word "only" was inserted in the tariff plank by lnadver tence. Admitting the plea there still remains the pathetic spectacie of a political party dodging an issue which la candidate believed to be merely a ocal matter that a certain town in Pennsylvania had disposed of years ago. It is prohable that the republicans have been equally guilty of palble success, what were believed to be errors may prove to have been bless-

In concinsion, I may be wrong-as he gift of foreknowledge is not an attribute of humanity-but judging from an observation that has covered within the past two weeks from Indiana to Massachusetts, and from calcuintions based upon the npinions of the most prominent managers of both partles, I can see nothing less than a political miragle to prevent the elec-tion of Gon. Garfield by the electoral vote of every State north of Mason and Dixon's ilne.

Is still progressing, Messrs. John Bennis Fencion Tirrell and John Salisbury having each secured a supply of good water. These appendages of household convenience are at many points, however, entirely dry, and the residents thus unfortunately situated are dependent upon their neighbors' wells for a supply of water. One of these thirsty souls has desperately entered into a mathematical esearch, with Great Pond water as the problem, and figures out the following

Some argue that there are good reasons for cacess in exenditure now, but he considered that the increase of population and husiness priate transparency; Mrs. J. G. Rogers' counterbalanced all this. If e said that here were 100,000 officers under the govrnment, many of whom were receiring arge pay and doing but little. He was in a government office recently, where in officer came in at a late honr, sat for awhile reading a newspaper, and then went out without having done anything, and the inquiry arose in his mind, Why is that official needed? Some of these unecessary officers, too, as he believed,

The time will come when the people will Taxes were again referred to by the ernment bonds, citing as instance show ing a need of this taxation, the case of a friend of his who has $100,000 in these bonds and yet pays nothing but a poil tax. Why, tic asked, should one whose property is all visible be heavily taxed, aml the wealthy bondholder escape taxatlon? The government might castly rentedy this eril by issuing new bonds which should be taxable, and then such property holders would bear their proper part of the public burden.

lid not know as much as their clerks .-

Returning again to Democratic culoglsm, the speaker asld that in the early days democracy had a meaning and that meaning was carried out. Though by a ong continuance in office the party became corrupt, the republicaus had been atill more corrupt, and a change was necessary. If we had proper administraantagoulstic feeling between different parts of the cosmiry, Gen. Garfield's record in credit mobilier was alluded to, when the republican papers called him false to his trust and unworthy of bls position, and this was compared with the elcanness of Gen. flancock's record, white and spotless. Gen. Grant was also brought up by the lecturer, who Italiey's, John Blanchard's, Mrs. Lovsald that when the General visited Plyouth the schools at South Weymonth people worshipped go by, and all they saw was a cloud of dust!

Butler, he said, had been accused of the passage of a current of electricity, like Summer, against whom the legisla. of the Democratic species as if about to censure, he was a reformer whom the ruling powers attempted to crush. There were dishuneat men in both political parties, but we must act Independent of party and ubide by principle, and he said that he should vote for Ifaneock.

The early days of adululstration, he maintained, were honest and prodent, but the present course will undermine Lowrey and G. L. White. The meeting the Republic, and the tendency is toward a condition of things like unto that of for that purpose and about 40 signatures Europe. ffe wanted to see the useless officeholders dismissed and only those retained who dhi the work. The expecditures must be reduced, so that the burden of revenue taxatlon may be made lighter, and families weighed down with burdens that others know little about may be able to procure the things they need.

HAPPY CHILDREN.

Houlth, and They will Take care

The joy of every well-regulated household comes chiefly from the children. Thousehold of affectionate parents do not take care of their children. Through ignorance more than through enlipshie neglect they ansier them to fall sick and die, when knowledge might have saved them to love and home. Dr. David Kennedy offers his "Favorite Remody" as emphatically a medicine for the children—genile in its action, containing no harmful ingredients whatever, going straight to the Blook, which, when impure, is the sent and source of disease. "Favorite Remody" is the friend of childrend and should be found in every nersecy is the land. Keep it in your home for your children's make, as well as for your own. Try it and you will be giad you saw this article. Make no mistaken. The medicine is "Favorite Remody" and the proprietor'a name and address: Dr. David Kennedy, Rondont, N. Y. One dollar a bottia.
